Notes

What is the Single Person Child Carer Credit (SPCCC)?

This is a tax credit that is available to a single parent, or a person who has custody of and maintains a child who is living with him or her. It is available to the primary carer of the child(ren) and can include someone who is single, widowed, a surviving civil partner, deserted, separated (from spouse or civil partner), divorced or whose civil partnership has been dissolved.

One tax credit will be given for any year of claim irrespective of the number of qualifying children who resided with the claimant in that year.

For further information see Single Person Child Carer Credit FAQ's on www.revenue.ie.

Leaflet IT1 - Tax Credits, Reliefs and Rates gives details of the current amount of the SPCCC tax credit.

Relinquishing a Claim

The primary claimant may relinquish his or her entitlement to this tax credit in favour of a secondary claimant if he or she wishes to do so. The child must reside with the secondary claimant for not less than 100 days during the year of claim. It should be noted that the greater part of a day is counted as a day and, therefore, where a child resides with a claimant for a period, say, from Saturday morning until Sunday evening, this will be counted as 2 days. In the case of a child born during the year of the claim, the number of qualifying days (in respect of the secondary claimant) will not be reduced on a pro-rata basis.

Once the primary claimant relinquishes his or her entitlement to this tax credit and it is claimed by the secondary claimant, he or she will continue to be entitled to claim it until such time as the relinquishment is cancelled by the primary claimant. This will take effect no earlier than 1 January in the year following receipt by Revenue of the cancellation.

How do I qualify as a secondary claimant?

You may qualify for the SPCCC as a secondary claimant if you are a single parent, or a person who has custody of and maintains a qualifying child, where the credit has been relinquished to you by the primary claimant, and

- the child is living with you for not less than 100 days in the tax year,
- you are not jointly assessed to tax as a married person or a civil partner, or
- you are not living with your spouse or civil partner, or
- you are not cohabiting, or
- you have not been widowed or became a surviving civil partner in the year for which you are making the claim.

Who is a qualifying child?

A qualifying child in relation to any primary claimant and year of assessment means a child -

- who is born in the tax year, or
- who is under 18 years of age at the start of the tax year, or
- who is over 18 years of age at the start of the tax year but in receipt of full-time instruction, or
- who is over 18 years of age at the start of the tax year but is permanently incapacitated and was incapacitated before the age of 21 years or, if the incapacity happened after age 21, it occurred while he or she was in receipt of full-time instruction.

The qualifying child must be -

- the individual's own child, or
- a child who is in the custody of an individual and who is maintained by that individual at his or her own expense for the whole or greater part of the year.

Note: Full-time instruction in this instance does not include post-graduate courses. The educational establishment must provide lectures and tutorials that require full-time attendance by the student (for at least one year duration) rather than just a part-time or evening programme.

Full-time apprenticeships of at least two years will be treated as full-time instruction at an educational establishment.

In all cases where a qualifying child is aged over 18, a yearly claim must be made.

Time Limit for Repayment Claims

A claim for repayment of tax must be made within four years after the end of the tax year to which the claim relates. For example, claims for 2014 must be made by 31 December 2018. Please note you must have paid income tax during the year of your claim in order to receive a repayment. If you owe income tax to Revenue for an earlier year, your repayment may be reduced by this amount.

As your claim may be selected for future examination, you are requested to retain all documentation relating to this claim for a period of six years from the end of the tax year to which this claim relates.
